Testimony

The MDHSS should not have authority to add or change vaccine policy.
Their job is to 'promote vaccines in a positive light'. This violates informed consent principles and also presents conflicts of interest. You cannot promote vaccines, not recognize the risks, then also be in charge of mandating them on the public.

Why should the HD, that's job is to promote vaccines and give only the benefits of vaccines and not the risks , be able to make regulations on their products. All vaccine legislation needs to go through the legislators and have input from their constituents.
