The Honorable John Stahl
Family and Children Services

my son Brian E-mailed me his thoughts a short time ago as follows: Even though I am highly educated and have been trusted by major corporations to do their legal work and by the department of defense for clearance to work on cutting edge classified inventions, I have no input on my children's education nor their medical treatment. Now my children can rarely see their grandmothers, aunts, uncles, and cousins due to my limited access to my children.

Brian has worked very hard and has a B.S.E. degree from U of M 1979. In 1991 he received a Juris Doctor from the U of A College of Law. Past his bar exam in Mi. & Arizona. Life should be great? Not so. He drives a semi-truck & makes sure he is home & visit his three children every other week end & Weds. + trying to make a change in this awful system. These men shouldn't lose their lives because of a divorce.
