Governor Sleeper Born, 1862

Governor Albert Sleeper was born in Vermont on December 31, 1862. He moved to Michigan as a young man and became a successful businessman and banker in Lexington in Sanilac County. Before being elected governor in 1916, Sleeper served in the Michigan Senate, and as the State Treasurer.

During his time in office Sleeper led the state through World War I, the Spanish Influenza epidemic, and the enactment of prohibition laws. Sleeper also signed a bill in 1919 that gave Michigan women limited suffrage.

Sleeper's portrait hangs in the second floor east wing of the capitol
