Appendix

- Michigan Business Tax (MBT)

Michigan Business Tax and Certificated Credits

- The MBT was repealed in 2012 for most business taxpayers and replaced with the CIT.
- Taxpayers awarded certificated credits before 2012 may still pay the MBT and claim their credits.
- In FY 2014, MBT revenue totaled a negative $723 million (refunds/credits exceeded payments).
- MBT revenue was $171 million below the May estimate because certificated credits were much larger than expected.

What are Certificated Credits?

- Certificated credits were awarded to specific businesses who must then meet certain employment and/or investment increases in order to actually claim the credits.
- Certificated credits are refundable and include Michigan Economic Growth Authority (MEGA), battery and others.
- Most are multi-year credits: Existing MEGA credits will last past 2030.
- Michigan Economic Development Corporation (MEDC) awarded credits through 2011; in addition, some existing credits have been amended since 2011.

Timing of Certificated Credits is Uncertain

- Certificated credits are awarded and claimed for particular tax years.
- Credits are claimed by businesses and certified by MEDC after the tax year is over.
- MEDC audits all claims for credits to make sure credit requirements are met.
- If credit requirements are met, MEDC grants the credit and issues a certificate.

Timing of Certificated Credits

- To receive a credit payment, a business must claim the credit on their MBT tax return, attach the certificate and file it with Treasury.
- Very difficult to predict:
 - If and when businesses will claim a credit with MEDC.
 - The amount of time MEDC needs to audit a credit claim.
 - In which fiscal year a business will file a tax return and credit certificate with Treasury (example: 2013 returns filed in FY 2014 or FY 2015).

Projected MBT Credits

- The cost of current MEGA credits is expected to increase over the next few years due to:
 - Employment gains and increased investment activity that will boost credits for TY 2015 and beyond.
 - Some large outstanding credits from prior years are expected to be claimed and paid.
- Remaining battery credits will be paid off in FY 2015 – FY 2018.

Projected MBT Credits

- In FY 2015, MBT net refunds are expected to total $681 million, $252 million larger than the May 2014 estimate.
- In FY 2016, MBT net refunds will total an estimated $807 million, $351 million larger than in May 2014.
